

PEACE WORK SPEEDING-UP MAKES WILSON'S EARLY RETURN TO U. S. POSSIBLE

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD THE U. S. S. GEORGE WASHINGTON, March 12.—As President Wilson neared Brest today all indications were that he would be able to return to the United States by the last of May. All information reaching the George Washington indicated that the peace work is being speeded up to such an extent that it is several weeks ahead of the original schedule.

The President's cold has entirely disappeared and Rear Admiral Grayson has removed the severe rules imposed upon the President.

A new group of destroyers have joined the George Washington, replacing those which put into the Azores yesterday and last night. The George Washington is expected to reach Brest tomorrow afternoon.

BERLIN GOVERNMENT MUST CONTINUE TO ENFORCE AUTHORITY BY CANNON'S EDICT

By FRED J. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, March 11.—Berlin was menaced anew by Spartan outbreaks today. Government troops after desperate fighting turned their efforts on the suburb of Lichtenburg. Most of the Spartans fled from there to the southeastern part of the city proper. Strong reinforcements were received. The government's position is made increasingly difficult.

The people demand that the use of artillery and airplane bombs cease. Fear that resistance of this demand might turn the people against the government made it seem possible that War Minister Noske would accede. While the fighting was gaining in intensity gay crowds thronged the streets; theatres and dance halls were crowded to capacity.

PEACE TREATY WITH GERMANY WILL BE COMPLETED THIS WEEK IS NOW HOPE

By FRED S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, March 12.—The peace treaty with Germany will be completed this week if the present schedule of the supreme war council is maintained. Final consideration was to be given as to military, naval and air terms today. Discussion of the German east boundary is expected to be final tomorrow. The western front is to be taken up Friday when President Wilson expects to participate in the discussion. On Saturday preparations for the final arrangement with Germany are to be settled. The boundary plans include establishment of a new "buffer state" composed of the Rhenish provinces.

PROGRESSIVE REVOLUTION FOR IRELAND IF PEACE CONFEREES IGNORE HER CLAIMS

By RALPH S. COUCH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

DUBLIN, March 12.—"Violence will be the only alternative remaining to Irish patriots if the peace conferees at Paris fail to take steps extending self determination to Ireland," Edward D'Valera, fugitive President of the revolutionary Sinn Fein party, made this prediction to me two hours ago at a secret midnight interview. "This means something like continued revolution until Ireland's rights are recognized," he said. His black eyes flashed when he said it. His big jaw squarred but he spoke quietly, nevertheless emphatic. Valera, American born, son of an Irish mother and Spanish father, is the soul of the Irish movement. British secret police have been hunting him ever since his romantic escape eleven days ago from Lincoln jail on the east coast of England.

HOW THEODORE ROWLES MET DEATH

Colem Cey, Les Belles, France
February 17, 1919

Mr. Vern Rowles, Clearfield, Pa.

Dear Mr. Rowles—My sister informs me that you have written me regarding your son's death. I never received your letter, but will now give you what information I have regarding Theodore's "going west."

Your son was killed near Fismet, on Vesle river, during an attack on a very strong position on a hill at the outskirts of the town. He was killed instantly, having been hit six times in the chest and heart by machine gun bullets.

Your son and myself took up as a specialty the automatic rifle. It is very good and powerful weapon. The Germans know and fear it, and of course make desperate efforts to get the gunners handling same, and generally pick them off. How I got thru safe God only knows as I have had things come my way at a pretty lively rate. But it was God's will that I come through and no one knows, but those who were in it, how glad we were when it ended. We did not make much fuss, we were just glad that was all.

I am now in the headquarters troop of our division, where I was sent on special duty a couple of days before the armistice was signed. I tell you truly I was glad to get back out of that hell we had been in for 102 days.

I did not get a chance to get anything off of your son after he was killed as we were repulsed and driven back from the hill, but here is something I hope will make you feel better. Your son had seven Germans to his credit before he went down and if that was not "his bit" I would like to know it. He and I were warm friends and I regret very much that the fortunes of war ordained that he must fall.

I remain as ever your friend

SLIGHT FIRE ON LOCUST STREET

A fire which caught from a spark lodging on the roof called the firemen to the residence of James Sutton on Locust street about 9:35 this morning. Mr Sutton located the blaze himself and by means of his own ladders had scaled the roof and was quite successfully battling the flames when assistance arrived.

Workmen from the Clearfield foundry and the firemen soon put a quietus on the fire, and the damage will not amount to more than $25.00.

WANT TO GRAB PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX

By United Press

Harrisburg, March 12.—The first revenue measure to be introduced in either branch of the legislature with the backing of the administration made its appearance in the House today. The bill introduced by Representative Hugh Dauphin of Lackawanna provides that the personal property tax, all of which has gone to the county, should be split 50-50 between the county and the state. It is estimated that the split will amount to at least a million and a half dollars annually to the state.

The fight to secure repeal of the mercantile tax law began today. A number of merchants' associations are before the House Ways & Means committee to ask for the repeal.

FIFTEEN CONVERSIONS AT PARADISE CHAPEL

The revival at the Paradise Baptist chapel is progressing finely to say the least and following Rev. Smith's powerful sermon last evening no less than fifteen conversions were recorded.

Rev. Smith's old time gospel sermons have created unbounded interest in the meetings and the chapel is filled to capacity nightly. Services every evening but Saturday and everybody invited to attend.

INFORMATION FOR INCOME TAXPAYERS

PITTSBURGH, March 11.—C. G. Llewellyn, Collector of Internal Revenue, for the Twenty-third District of Pennsylvania, stated today:

"There is great congestion in the office at Pittsburgh due to the vast number of taxpayers endeavoring to receive personal attention and assistance in the preparation of their income tax returns, and in endeavoring to have returns sworn to and filed by the taxpayer, personally, in this office."

"The congestion, at the present time, is so great that it is impossible to give the taxpayers the assistance and attention demanded. The taxpayers are therefore, asked to refrain from calling at the Revenue Office at Pittsburgh, and endeavor to prepare their own returns, whether tentative or complete, in the best manner they know how, and deposit same in the Post Office of their town, together with remittance for the first quarterly payment of tax, addressed to C. G. Llewellyn, Collector of Internal Revenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. All income tax returns, whether tentative or regular, with remittance attached, deposited in any Post Office on March 15th, will protect the taxpayer from penalties and insure proper consideration of his return when received at this office."

"An attempt to personally file a return in the Collector's office this week, might prevent the taxpayer from doing so, on account of the increased congestion in the Pittsburgh office. Taxpayers are requested to send returns, with payment, by mail."

Russell Snavely, son of Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Snavely, of the West Side M. He expects to leave New York March 25th for San Francisco and is booked to sail from the latter place about April 5th.

TRAGIC MYSTERY AGAIN ENSHROUDS ARDARY FARM

LAWRENCE ARDARY IS DEAD AT HIS HOME
WHILE RALPH ARDARY, IS PATIENT IN
CLEARFIELD HOSPITAL

MYSTERY SURROUNDS SHOOTING

Again does tragedy and mystery go hand in hand in the tragic happening at the home of the late George W. Ardary, on the Lawrence township "Ridges."

The information contained in the article printed in The Progress last night concerning the shooting affray at the Ardary home yesterday afternoon was only true in part, the error being due to the excitement of the informant of the county authorities and the failure of the telephone line.

There was no duel with rifles between Lawrence Ardary and his cousin Ralph Ardary. A shooting affray did occur, but just one man did the shooting and the gun used was a 32-calibre revolver.

As a result of the shooting Lawrence Ardary, son of Alonso Ardary, is lying dead at his father's home on a farm immediately adjoining that of the late George W. Ardary, brother of Alonso, while Ralph Ardary, son of George W. Ardary is a patient at the Clearfield hospital with a bullet wound in his arm, while a second bullet ploughed through his cap.

Ralph Ardary claims he was shot by his cousin Lawrence, who after ward shot himself through the head, death ensuing a couple of hours after the shooting, which occurred about 1 o'clock.

According to the best information we can get Ralph Ardary invited his cousin Lawrence yesterday morning to come over to his place and help him break a colt he had there. Lawrence accepted the invitation. Shortly after he arrived at the Ardary home Ralph invited him to assist him in taking a cider barrel down off the attic and while doing so they passed the room of George Ardary, a brother, of Ralph, whose loaded revolver was lying on a chair, and which proved to be the gun with which the double shooting was done.

After leaving the house with the barrel the Ardarys repaired to the barn where they proceeded to remove the body from a back into which they expected to hitch the colt they proposed breaking.

When the boys were placing the body of the back against the barn, Ralph says Lawrence asked him to get him the colt and he refused, whereupon Lawrence replied, "Well, I am going to get the colt, this farm and Cora." Ralph replied, "Not as long as I am living." With that Lawrence drew the revolver and fired at him, the first shot penetrating his hat. He grappled with Lawrence as he fired again, this bullet striking Ralph in the arm. He ran out of the barn as he did so he heard another shot, and Lawrence did not come out of the barn.

Ralph quickly notified his neighbors of the shooting and Alfred Borst and Davis, who live nearby quickly repaired to the scene. They were afraid to enter the barn and Borst went across the fields and notified Alonso Ardary. He came at once and entering the barn found his son lying on the barn floor with a bullet through his head. He was unconscious and remained in that condition until death ensued about 4 o'clock.

District Attorney Arnold, Deputy Sheriff Gilliland, Chief of Police Eddie and Officer Leavy who had been summoned from Clearfield, arrived on the scene shortly after Lawrence Ardary passed away. The district attorney and Sheriff took charge of the matter and made a searching investigation and carefully examined Ralph Ardary, after which he was brought to the Clearfield hospital for medical treatment. His wound is not severe and he is getting along finely.

District Attorney Arnold and County Coroner Pollum, of DuBois, went to the Ardary farm this morning.

LOCAL ARMENIAN AND SYRIAN RELIEF CAMPAIGN IS ALREADY WELL UNDERWAY

As was to be expected the movement toward the raising of Clearfield county's quota for Armenian and Syrian relief met with a ready response from Clearfield people. County Chairman John M. Chase and his efficient assistants immediately got busy and have already formed the nucleus of a strong county-wide organization and have the campaign now well under way.

In addition to Chairman Chase, James Lewis, Cardon was named secretary; P. T. Davis, of the Clearfield Trust company, treasurer and the following executive committee chosen:

Ross Wynn, Philipsburg; Arthur E. Brown, Osceola Mills; J. M. Laurie, Houtzdale; R. D. Swoope, Curwensville; Wm. Gould, Bristin; Rev. M. J. Renshan, Frenchville; A. C. Lansberry, Bigler; Wm. Batchelor, Glen Richey; Charles Strong, Ansonville; Dr. S. J. Miller, Madera; James Minds, Ramey; Dr. J. Currier, Grampian; Rev. Wm. Gibb, Irvona; A. L. Hegarty, Coalport; Isaac Straw, Westover; Dr. E. S. Erhard, New Millport; John Boag, Sr., Boardman; M. J. Cox, McCartney; Rev. G. W. Hatch, Mahaffey; R. D. Rev. G. B. Shively, Woodland; W. B. Clark, Mahaffey; E. H. Somerville, Winburne.

Ja Dutra, LaJone; Mrs. Mandano Walker, Bristin; Thomas McGlynn, Madera; C. B. Maxwell, Morrisdale; M. A. Caldwell, Curwensville; Carl Patchin, Burnside.

In addition to the above Rev. George E. Smith, of the First Baptist church, was made chairman of the churches and Sunday schools of the county.

To Rev. Hartman, of Trinity Methodist church, was assigned the chairmanship of the Public schools of the county.

The Woman's Club of Clearfield was given the sole charge of the soliciting campaign in Clearfield including schools and all will soon announce their plan of making the local canvass.

The importance of haste is emphasized in every detail as prompt action means speedy relief in the cutting down of starvation's terrible toll among the people of these devastated regions.

"Seventeen cents a day saves a life" a day and who is there among us unable to buy the life of one of God's starving babies at such a price.

This is not a saving campaign; it is a patriotic campaign; it is a campaign in emulation of the life and works of the lowly Nazarene and gives every Clearfield county citizen an opportunity to participate in this charitable and humane enterprise in his name.

Father Lynch, of Curwensville, transacted business here yesterday.

HOW ABOUT GARDEN TOOLS?

Chances are that most of the home gardeners of the United States have tools left over from last season and will not have to buy any new ones, but fortunately only a few implements are necessary, says today's bulletin from the National War Garden Commission of Washington. Do not buy a lot of expensive new tools just to "keep up with the Joneses."

For a small garden up to 20 by 50 feet in size to be worked by man power you need only a digging fork or spade, a steel tooth rake and a hoe. If the garden is plowed with a team you need only a rake and hoe. Make a measuring stick of the hoe or rake handle by marking marks 6, 12, 18, 24, 30 and 36 inches from the end and use to measure the distance between rows. Use two sticks and a stretched string to lay off straight rows. Use the end of the hoe or rake handle or the blade of the hoe to mark out the row along the string.

A larger garden can be handled with a rake and hoe, but a wheel hoe or garden cultivator is very desirable and in a large garden is really necessary unless horse cultivation is used. A large garden needs a digging fork, spade and garden trowel. The one-piece iron trowel is strongest and best.

There are several other garden tools and the gardener must use his judgment as to whether or not he buys them. Sometimes a second hoe—one of the pointed kind—is useful in chasing the weeds among the plants.

TAFT ADVISES PARTY ON OPPOSITION

By ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, March 11.—Republican supporters of the League of Nations headed by ex-President Wm. H. Taft are warning G. O. P. opposers of the Wilson government against a too rigid stand lest they endanger the party. It is generally admitted that when the peace treaty comes back from France the League of Nations will be a part of it. The whole work completed on the treaty in Paris has been based on promises of a League of Nations and practically every article in is in some way applicable under the League's rules. The party responsible for holding up the ratification of the treaty would undoubtedly be charged thereafter by the opposite party with having prolonged the war.

CZECHO-SLOVAKS HAVE DEFINITIVE MONETARY

BY FRANK J. T. (United Press Staff Co. Prague, Czechoslovakia) By Mail—Interesting financial status of the empire are contained in which the Czechoslovak finance, Dr. Alojs Rasin, United Press correspondent.

Dr. Rasin, who was in the Austrians for his revolutionary sympathies and condemned ground that he had connections. President Masaryk, is a lively old man with shrewd ideas and clear cut plans for the future financing of the Czechoslovak republic.

"Our situation financially is perfectly clear," says Dr. Rasin. "Bohemia resisted the Hapsburgs financially as well as morally. People refused to pay taxes, until there were more than a billion crowns unpaid. Now that goes to the new republic. All the people who refused to pay to the Austrian-Hungarian empire are now voluntarily paying up to the Czechoslovak republic."

"We expect to issue our new money secured by the loans of the allies. We have probably a billion crowns of gold hidden by people and a great quantity of English, French and especially American money. People have hoarded it during the war."

"We also have a lot in vaults, especially American money. It was brought to Europe by the American soldiers, and got to Switzerland. There it was bought up for crowns at a fairly good rate, and brought by courier over the border."

"Of course, we haven't enough gold and sound foreign money to float our entire issue, but we have mines, forests, and railroads. It will not be necessary to have so much money, since a franc will be worth four or five crowns."

"Then, too, we will demand payment by the Austrians and Hungarians for supplies taken from Bohemia during the war. Metals, such as brass, iron, copper, were concentrated in Vienna. They have 4,000,000,000 crowns' worth of stuff they confiscated from us, which they want to give to their industries. We are demanding they ship it back to us."

"The Austrians used many means to weaken us during the war. They built factories around Vienna, took our supplies there, and then made our workmen go down there to make munitions. They allowed our own mines and industries to go to ruin. Now they expect to keep what they have stolen."

To get money the Austrians took the orphan and insurance accounts in our banks. They arrested directors who resisted this. The Austrians deposited bonds—of course we have the bonds, but they are not worth much owing to the fall in value of the crown, and the shaky Austrian treasury."

"Our first liberty loan of the new republic was a great success. We decided to float it secretly for 500,000 crowns. It never was advertised, but in spite of the fact that it had no securities and there was no campaign, it was more than twice oversubscribed in one week. We got 1,070,000,000 crowns without any effort at all."

"That will finance us until the peace conference meets, and until we can establish a new system of money."

GERMANTOWN LADY GETS NEW ENERGY

Mrs. A. Wackwith, 850 Carpenter lane, Germantown, Philadelphia, tells of her new-found energy. "I suffered from indigestion, gastritis and a run-down system. Gas caused a bloated and distressful feeling around the heart. I had bad dreams, a poor appetite and an extreme lack of energy. I heard about a case like mine where Tanlac had helped. After using Tanlac I soon began to lose that draggy, all-in feeling. My energy returned. I was able to do my work with vim and snap, and I eat heartily. I find Tanlac a good thing."

The genui J. I. Gore Co. Tanlac is now sold here by Stewart Drug Co. and Woodward & McPherson.

Meat: Russia and the Allies

Russia crumbled away and failed the Allies largely through lack of food, according to an American eyewitness.

With plentiful reserves and resources virtually untouched, her people starved at home and at the front because there was no adequate organization to place food where it was needed.

Animals on the hoof were shipped thousands of miles to the various fronts, wasting transportation facilities required for other purposes. They arrived shrunken and emaciated, to be killed and dressed amidst filth and confusion behind the lines. Half of those brought from Siberia, it is said, perished on the way; many more were unfit for food.

On the other hand, the American packers turned live stock into meat in large sanitary plants located in the producing sections, and shipped the product under refrigeration so that it reached the trenches in France in perfect condition, without waste.

Says Our Authority:

"Had such facilities for cold storage transportation been available to the Russian supply committee as were placed at the disposal of the quartermaster of the United States by Swift & Company, there might have been a different story concerning Russia's part in the final drama of the war."

A large-scale packing industry would be an asset to Russia, in war or in peace, as it has proved to be to the United States.

The cost of this large scale industry in the form of profits is only a fraction of a cent per pound of meat.

THE COMING OF THE TEA ROOM

The tea-room originated in Japan, the land of cherry blossoms. They are found there at every turn, presided over by the pretty geisha girls in our own country the tea-rooms are generally remodelled shops, offices, or farm houses that were fast passing into decay before they took on a new lease of life.

There is about them a picturesqueness which may lie with the overhanging branches of the maples that have stood guard for so long or it may be the weatherbeaten exterior that appeals. Years ago tea-rooms were unknown. They have sprung into existence within the last few years, broadening their scope until now we find one in every suburban town or village. They stand by the wayside, a sign giving evidence of their new life and tempt the passerby to partake of their hospitality.

The introduction of the tea-room has solved many perplexing household difficulties and the coming of the unexpected guest is no longer an embarrassment. One turns to the little tearoom for help, where dainty sandwiches and fancy cakes are always at hand. The popularity of the afternoon tea is responsible in a great measure for the growth of the tea room, forming a common meeting place for social life. Here congregate groups of merry girls, laughing and chattering over the teasups while staid matrons look on approvingly.

This picture to us the importance of this institution in community life. You will find a very attractive little tea-room situated at Clearfield, just around the corner on Locust between Second and Third streets. It will be open for the first time on St. Patrick's Day and from that on the year round. You can be served with luncheon and can meet your friends there for afternoon tea. It will also provide a rendezvous for automobile parties who desire to partake of the dainty refreshments this tea-room offers. Everyone is most cordially invited to come when they will.

PEACE WORK SPEEDING-UP MAKES WILSON'S EARLY RETURN TO U. S. POSSIBLE

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD THE U. S. S. GEORGE WASHINGTON, March 12.—As President Wilson neared Brest today all indications were that he would be able to return to the United States by the last of May. All information reaching the George Washington indicated that the peace work is being speeded up to such an extent that it is several weeks ahead of the original schedule.

The President's cold has entirely disappeared and Rear Admiral Grayson has removed the severe rules imposed upon the President.

A new group of destroyers have joined the George Washington, replacing those which put into the Azores yesterday and last night. The George Washington is expected to reach Brest tomorrow afternoon.

BERLIN GOVERNMENT MUST CONTINUE TO ENFORCE AUTHORITY BY CANNON'S EDICT

By FRED J. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, March 11.—Berlin was menaced anew by Spartan outbreaks today. Government troops after desperate fighting turned their efforts on the suburb of Lichtenburg. Most of the Spartans fled from there to the southeastern part of the city proper. Strong reinforcements were received. The government's position is made increasingly difficult.

The people demand that the use of artillery and airplane bombs cease. Fear that resistance of this demand might turn the people against the government made it seem possible that War Minister Noske would accede. While the fighting was gaining in intensity gay crowds thronged the streets; theatres and dance halls were crowded to capacity.

PEACE TREATY WITH GERMANY WILL BE COMPLETED THIS WEEK IS NOW HOPE

By FRED S. FERGUSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, March 12.—The peace treaty with Germany will be completed this week if the present schedule of the supreme war council is maintained. Final consideration was to be given as to military, naval and air terms today. Discussion of the German east boundary is expected to be final tomorrow. The western front is to be taken up Friday when President Wilson expects to participate in the discussion. On Saturday preparations for the final arrangement with Germany are to be settled. The boundary plans include establishment of a new "buffer state" composed of the Rhenish provinces.

PROGRESSIVE REVOLUTION FOR IRELAND IF PEACE CONFEREES IGNORE HER CLAIMS

By RALPH S. COUCH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

DUBLIN, March 12.—"Violence will be the only alternative remaining to Irish patriots if the peace conferees at Paris fail to take steps extending self determination to Ireland," Edward D'Valera, fugitive President of the revolutionary Sinn Fein party, made this prediction to me two hours ago at a secret midnight interview. "This means something like continued revolution until Ireland's rights are recognized," he said. His black eyes flashed when he said it. His big jaw squarred but he spoke quietly, nevertheless emphatic. Valera, American born, son of an Irish mother and Spanish father, is the soul of the Irish movement. British secret police have been hunting him ever since his romantic escape eleven days ago from Lincoln jail on the east coast of England.

HOW THEODORE ROWLES MET DEATH

Colem Cey, Les Belles, France
February 17, 1919
Mr. Vern Rowles,
Clearfield, Pa.

Dear Mr. Rowles—My sister informs me that you have written me regarding your son's death. I never received your letter, but will now give you what information I have regarding Theodore's "going west."

Your son was killed near Fismet, on Vesle river, during an attack on a very strong position on a hill at the outskirts of the town. He was killed instantly, having been hit six times in the chest and heart by machine gun bullets.

Your son and myself took up as a specialty the automatic rifle. It is very good and powerful weapon. The Germans know and fear it, and of course make desperate efforts to get the gunners handling same, and generally pick them off. How I got thru safe God only knows as I have had things come my way at a pretty lively rate. But it was God's will that I come through and no one knows, but those who were in it, how glad we were when it ended. We did not make much fuss, we were just glad that was all.

I am now in the headquarters troop of our division, where I was sent on special duty a couple of days before the armistice was signed. I tell you truly I was glad to get back out of that hell we had been in for 102 days.

I did not get a chance to get anything off of your son after he was killed as we were repulsed and driven back from the hill, but here is something I hope will make you feel better. Your son had seven Germans to his credit before he went down and if that was not "his bit" I would like to know it. He and I were warm friends and I regret very much that the fortunes of war ordained that he must fall.

I remain as ever your friend

SLIGHT FIRE ON LOCUST STREET

A fire which caught from a spark lodging on the roof called the firemen to the residence of James Sutton on Locust street about 9:35 this morning. Mr Sutton located the blaze himself and by means of his own ladders had scaled the roof and was quite successfully battling the flames when assistance arrived.

Workmen from the Clearfield foundry and the firemen soon put a quietus on the fire, and the damage will not amount to more than $25.00.

WANT TO GRAB PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX

By United Press

Harrisburg, March 12.—The first revenue measure to be introduced in either branch of the legislature with the backing of the administration made its appearance in the House today. The bill introduced by Representative Hugh Dauphin of Lackawanna provides that the personal property tax, all of which has gone to the county, should be split 50-50 between the county and the state. It is estimated that the split will amount to at least a million and a half dollars annually to the state.

The fight to secure repeal of the mercantile tax law began today. A number of merchants' associations are before the House Ways & Means committee to ask for the repeal.

INFORMATION FOR INCOME TAXPAYERS

PITTSBURGH, March 11.—C. G. Llewellyn, Collector of Internal Revenue, for the Twenty-third District of Pennsylvania, stated today:

"There is great congestion in the office at Pittsburgh due to the vast number of taxpayers endeavoring to receive personal attention and assistance in the preparation of their income tax returns, and in endeavoring to have returns sworn to and filed by the taxpayer, personally, in this office."

"The congestion, at the present time, is so great that it is impossible to give the taxpayers the assistance and attention demanded. The taxpayers are therefore, asked to refrain from calling at the Revenue Office at Pittsburgh, and endeavor to prepare their own returns, whether tentative or complete, in the best manner they know how, and deposit same in the Post Office of their town, together with remittance for the first quarterly payment of tax, addressed to C. G. Llewellyn, Collector of Internal Revenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. All income tax returns, whether tentative or regular, with remittance attached, deposited in any Post Office on March 15th, will protect the taxpayer from penalties and insure proper consideration of his return when received at this office."

"An attempt to personally file a return in the Collector's office this week, might prevent the taxpayer from doing so, on account of the increased congestion in the Pittsburgh office. Taxpayers are requested to send returns, with payment, by mail."

TRAGIC MYSTERY AGAIN ENSHROUDS ARDARY FARM

LAWRENCE ARDARY IS DEAD AT HIS HOME
WHILE RALPH ARDARY, IS PATIENT IN
CLEARFIELD HOSPITAL

MYSTERY SURROUNDS SHOOTING

Again does tragedy and mystery go hand in hand in the tragic happening at the home of the late George W. Ardary, on the Lawrence township "Ridges."

The information contained in the article printed in The Progress last night concerning the shooting affray at the Ardary home yesterday afternoon was only true in part, the error being due to the excitement of the informant of the county authorities and the failure of the telephone line.

There was no duel with rifles between Lawrence Ardary and his cousin Ralph Ardary. A shooting affray did occur, but just one man did the shooting and the gun used was a 32-calibre revolver.

As a result of the shooting Lawrence Ardary, son of Alonso Ardary, is lying dead at his father's home on a farm immediately adjoining that of the late George W. Ardary, brother of Alonso, while Ralph Ardary, son of George W. Ardary is a patient at the Clearfield hospital with a bullet wound in his arm, while a second bullet ploughed through his cap.

Ralph Ardary claims he was shot by his cousin Lawrence, who after ward shot himself through the head, death ensuing a couple of hours after the shooting, which occurred about 1 o'clock.

According to the best information we can get Ralph Ardary invited his cousin Lawrence yesterday morning to come over to his place and help him break a colt he had there. Lawrence accepted the invitation. Shortly after he arrived at the Ardary home Ralph invited him to assist him in taking a cider barrel down off the attic and while doing so they passed the room of George Ardary, a brother, of Ralph, whose loaded revolver was lying on a chair, and which proved to be the gun with which the double shooting was done.

After leaving the house with the barrel the Ardarys repaired to the barn where they proceeded to remove the body from a back into which they expected to hitch the colt they proposed breaking.

When the boys were placing the body of the back against the barn, Ralph says Lawrence asked him to get him the colt and he refused, whereupon Lawrence replied, "Well, I am going to get the colt, this farm and Cora." Ralph replied, "Not as long as I am living." With that Lawrence drew the revolver and fired at him, the first shot penetrating his hat. He grappled with Lawrence as he fired again, this bullet striking Ralph in the arm. He ran out of the barn as he did so he heard another shot, and Lawrence did not come out of the barn.

Ralph quickly notified his neighbors of the shooting and Alfred Borst and Davis, who live nearby quickly repaired to the scene. They were afraid to enter the barn and Borst went across the fields and notified Alonso Ardary. He came at once and entering the barn found his son lying on the barn floor with a bullet through his head. He was unconscious and remained in that condition until death ensued about 4 o'clock.

District Attorney Arnold, Deputy Sheriff Gilliland, Chief of Police Eddie and Officer Leavy who had been summoned from Clearfield, arrived on the scene shortly after Lawrence Ardary passed away. The district attorney and Sheriff took charge of the matter and made a searching investigation and carefully examined Ralph Ardary, after which he was brought to the Clearfield hospital for medical treatment. His wound is not severe and he is getting along finely.

District Attorney Arnold and County Coroner Pollum, of DuBois, went to the Ardary farm this morning.

LOCAL ARMENIAN AND SYRIAN RELIEF CAMPAIGN IS ALREADY WELL UNDERWAY

As was to be expected the movement toward the raising of Clearfield county's quota for Armenian and Syrian relief met with a ready response from Clearfield people. County Chairman John M. Chase and his efficient assistants immediately got busy and have already formed the nucleus of a strong county-wide organization and have the campaign now well under way.

In addition to Chairman Chase, James Lewis, Cardon was named secretary; P. T. Davis, of the Clearfield Trust company, treasurer and the following executive committee chosen:

Ross Wynn, Philipsburg; Arthur E. Brown, Osceola Mills; J. M. Laurie, Houtzdale; R. D. Swoope, Curwensville; Wm. Gould, Bristin; Rev. M. J. Renshan, Frenchville; A. C. Lansberry, Bigler; Wm. Batchelor, Glen Richey; Charles Strong, Ansonville; Dr. S. J. Miller, Madera; James Minds, Ramey; Dr. J. Currier, Grampian; Rev. Wm. Gibb, Irvona; A. L. Hegarty, Coalport; Isaac Straw, Westover; Dr. E. S. Erhard, New Millport; John Boag, Sr., Boardman; M. J. Cox, McCartney; Rev. G. W. Hatch, Mahaffey; R. D. Rev. G. B. Shively, Woodland; W. B. Clark, Mahaffey; E. H. Somerville, Winburne.

Ja Dutra, LaJone; Mrs. Mandano Walker, Bristin; Thomas McGlynn, Madera; C. B. Maxwell, Morrisdale; M. A. Caldwell, Curwensville; Carl Patchin, Burnside.

In addition to the above Rev. George E. Smith, of the First Baptist church, was made chairman of the churches and Sunday schools of the county.

To Rev. Hartman, of Trinity Methodist church, was assigned the chairmanship of the Public schools of the county.

The Woman's Club of Clearfield was given the sole charge of the soliciting campaign in Clearfield including schools and all will soon announce their plan of making the local canvass.

The importance of haste is emphasized in every detail as prompt action means speedy relief in the cutting down of starvation's terrible toll among the people of these devastated regions.

"Seventeen cents a day saves a life" a day and who is there among us unable to buy the life of one of God's starving babies at such a price. This is not a saving campaign; it is a patriotic campaign; it is a campaign in emulation of the life and works of the lowly Nazarene and gives every Clearfield county citizen an opportunity to participate in this charitable and humane enterprise in his name.

Father Lynch, of Curwensville, transacted business here yesterday.

HOW ABOUT GARDEN TOOLS?

Chances are that most of the home gardeners of the United States have tools left over from last season and will not have to buy any new ones, but fortunately only a few implements are necessary, says today's bulletin from the National War Garden Commission of Washington. Do not buy a lot of expensive new tools just to "keep up with the Joneses."

For a small garden up to 20 by 50 feet in size to be worked by man power you need only a digging fork or spade, a steel tooth rake and a hoe. If the garden is plowed with a team you need only a rake and hoe. Make a measuring stick of the hoe or rake handle by marking marks 6, 12, 18, 24, 30 and 36 inches from the end and use to measure the distance between rows. Use two sticks and a stretched string to lay off straight rows. Use the end of the hoe or rake handle or the blade of the hoe to mark out the row along the string.

A larger garden can be handled with a rake and hoe, but a wheel hoe or garden cultivator is very desirable and in a large garden is really necessary unless horse cultivation is used. A large garden needs a digging fork, spade and garden trowel. The one-piece iron trowel is strongest and best.

There are several other garden tools and the gardener must use his judgment as to whether or not he buys them. Sometimes a second hoe—one of the pointed kind—is useful in chasing the weeds among the plants.

Taft Advises Party on Opposition

By ROBERT J. BENDER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Republican supporters of the League of Nations headed by ex-President Wm. H. Taft are warning G. O. P. opposers of the Wilson government against a too rigid stand lest they endanger the party. It is generally admitted that when the peace treaty comes back from France the League of Nations will be a part of it. The whole work completed on the treaty in Paris has been based on promises of a League of Nations and practically every article in is some way applicable under the League's rules. The party responsible for holding up the ratification of the treaty would undoubtedly be charged thereafter by the opposite party with having prolonged the war.

CZECHO-SLOVAKS HAVE DEFINITIVE MONETARY

BY FRANK J. T. (United Press Staff Co. Prague, Czechoslovakia) By Mail—Interesting financial status of the empire are contained in which the Czechoslovak finance, Dr. Alojs Rasin, United Press correspondent.

Dr. Rasin, who was in the Austrians for his revolutionary sympathies and condemned ground that he had connections President Masaryk, is a lively old man with shrewd ideas and clear cut plans for the future financing of the Czechoslovak republic.

"Our situation financially is perfectly clear," says Dr. Rasin "Bohemia resisted the Hapsburgs financially as well as morally. People refused to pay taxes, until there were more than a billion crowns unpaid. Now that goes to the new republic. All the people who refused to pay to the Austrian-Hungarian empire are now voluntarily paying up to the Czechoslovak republic."

"We expect to issue our new money secured by the loans of the allies. We have probably a billion crowns of gold hidden by people and a great quantity of English, French and especially American money. People have hoarded it during the war."

"We also have a lot in vaults, especially American money. It was brought to Europe by the American soldiers, and got to Switzerland. There it was bought up for crowns at a fairly good rate, and brought by courier over the border."

"Of course, we haven't enough gold and sound foreign money to float our entire issue, but we have mines, forests, and railroads. It will not be necessary to have so much money, since a franc will be worth four or five crowns."

"Then, too, we will demand payment by the Austrians and Hungarians for supplies taken from Bohemia during the war. Metals, such as brass, iron, copper, were concentrated in Vienna. They have 4,000,000,000 crowns' worth of stuff they confiscated from us, which they want to give to their industries. We are demanding they ship it back to us."

"The Austrians used many means to weaken us during the war. They built factories around Vienna, took our supplies there, and then made our workmen go down there to make munitions. They allowed our own mines and industries to go to ruin. Now they expect to keep what they have stolen."

To get money the Austrians took the orphan and insurance accounts in our banks. They arrested directors who resisted this. The Austrians deposited bonds—of course we have the bonds, but they are not worth much owing to the fall in value of the crown, and the shaky Austrian treasury."

"Our first liberty loan of the new republic was a great success. We decided to float it secretly for 500,000 crowns. It never was advertised, but in spite of the fact that it had no securities and there was no campaign, it was more than twice oversubscribed in one week. We got 1,070,000,000 crowns without any effort at all."

"That will finance us until the peace conference meets, and until we can establish a new system of money."

GERMANTOWN LADY GETS NEW ENERGY

Mrs. A. Wackwith, 850 Carpenter lane, Germantown, Philadelphia, tells of her new-found energy. "I suffered from indigestion, gastritis and a run-down system. Gas caused a bloated and distressful feeling around the heart. I had bad dreams, a poor appetite and an extreme lack of energy. I heard about a case like mine where Tanlac had helped. After using Tanlac I soon began to lose that draggy, all-in feeling. My energy returned. I was able to do my work with vim and snap, and I eat heartily. I find Tanlac a good thing."

Meat: Russia and the Allies

Russia crumbled away and failed the Allies largely through lack of food, according to an American eyewitness.

With plentiful reserves and resources virtually untouched, her people starved at home and at the front because there was no adequate organization to place food where it was needed.

Animals on the hoof were shipped thousands of miles to the various fronts, wasting transportation facilities required for other purposes. They arrived shrunken and emaciated, to be killed and dressed amidst filth and confusion behind the lines. Half of those brought from Siberia, it is said, perished on the way; many more were unfit for food.

On the other hand, the American packers turned live stock into meat in large sanitary plants located in the producing sections, and shipped the product under refrigeration so that it reached the trenches in France in perfect condition, without waste.

Says Our Authority:

"Had such facilities for cold storage transportation been available to the Russian supply committee as were placed at the disposal of the quartermaster of the United States by Swift & Company, there might have been a different story concerning Russia's part in the final drama of the war."

A large-scale packing industry would be an asset to Russia, in war or in peace, as it has proved to be to the United States.

The cost of this large scale industry in the form of profits is only a fraction of a cent per pound of meat.

THE COMING OF THE TEA ROOM

The tea-room originated in Japan, the land of cherry blossoms. They are found there at every turn, presided over by the pretty geisha girls in our own country the tea-rooms are generally remodelled shops, offices, or farm houses that were fast passing into decay before they took on a new lease of life.

There is about them a picturesqueness which may lie with the overhanging branches of the maples that have stood guard for so long or it may be the weatherbeaten exterior that appeals. Years ago tea-rooms were unknown. They have sprung into existence within the last few years, broadening their scope until now we find one in every suburban town or village. They stand by the wayside, a sign giving evidence of their new life and tempt the passerby to partake of their hospitality.

The introduction of the tea-room has solved many perplexing household difficulties and the coming of the unexpected guest is no longer an embarrassment. One turns to the little tearoom for help, where dainty sandwiches and fancy cakes are always at hand. The popularity of the afternoon tea is responsible in a great measure for the growth of the tea room, forming a common meeting place for social life. Here congregate groups of merry girls, laughing and chattering over the teasups while staid matrons look on approvingly.

This picture to us the importance of this institution in community life. You will find a very attractive little tea-room situated at Clearfield, just around the corner on Locust between Second and Third streets. It will be open for the first time on St. Patrick's Day and from that on the year round. You can be served with luncheon and can meet your friends there for afternoon tea. It will also provide a rendezvous for automobile parties who desire to partake of the dainty refreshments this tea-room offers. Everyone is most cordially invited to come when they will.

Mr. and Mrs. Graffius have organized and worked with the Camp Fire in the different cities and towns, Tyrone, Altoona, Susquehanna, and Blandburg.

Mr. Graffius took all the furniture out of the Y. M. C. A. parlor or Directors' room and held a ceremony or council meeting before an open fire in the fireplace while the seventy-five girls toasted marshmallows and popped corn. Their guardian explained the Camp Fire work to them. Three different groups were organized with 25 girls in a group. The girls will choose Indian names and will be awarded honor marks and beads for doing different things, like cooking, washing dishes, attending school regularly. The girls are planning for big doings next summer.

WILL FLY AFTER DEER

Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Leopold have returned from a delightful ten days visit with relatives and friends in New York and Jersey City. During their stay they witnessed President Wilson's departure for Paris, were in the crowds near the wharf when the Leviathan and 9000 of the 27th regiment formerly N. Y. National Guard landed. They also took in the big airplane exhibit at Madison Square garden and Doc picked out a machine which he expects to use on scouting expeditions for deer around the head of Stone-run next winter.

TO GIVE THE MIKADO

Gilbert & Sullivan's famous Japanese comic opera classic "The Mikado" will be presented by home talent during the Easter holidays for the benefit of the Clearfield hospital. It is being produced under the auspices and direction of the Woman's auxiliary of the hospital, and will be given at the New Driggs theatre for three nights, the dates to be announced later.

Rehearsals have already begun in the High school auditorium and all indications point to a very successful production. "Ko-Ko", "Pooh-Bah", "Yum-Yum", "Katisha" and all the old favorites will be accurately interpreted. The lines are witty, the music extremely tuneful and altogether it is a very delightful evenings entertainment.

The play is being produced by the performers themselves with amateur coaches and without the expense of a professional. In fact, all expenses are being kept at a minimum, and the co-operation of all is requested to make this production a big success.

Two hundred $2.50 crepe de chine and silk waists will be sold at Mirk's for $1.98. All shades and all sizes.
